

CRA suddenly denying your CCB?

You are not alone

The CRA is clawing back Canadian Child Benefits (CCB)
from caregivers who are legally entitled to benefits.

They cut off CCB and refuse to reinstate it until you prove your eligibility.

The proof they ask for is difficult or impossible to obtain.

What you send gets rejected repeatedly.
The CRA gives different reasons and different standards of proof every time you talk to them.

The CRA puts you in debt.
People have to fight for months or years,
or go to the media.

Single mothers and Indigenous families especially have had CCB denied.

Read about people who have experienced the same ordeal.
